

Hi Victor,

"I recently adopted a young Jack Russell Terrier and with the reputation that terriers have for being stubborn, un-trainable, hyperactive etc. I wanted to get involved right away in an obedience class. We signed up for a class at the local pet store which focused on a food reward for good behavior method. That worked fine as long as I had food but I felt it was not the best training method for long lasting results. I searched around until I found Victor who has a similar philosophy to mine in that we teach our dog to be our follower and I am the pack leader. I appreciate his teaching methods and the written lessons so I can refer back as I continue to train my dog at home. Victor brings enthusiasm and great communication skills to his human and dog clients!"

Take Care, Doreen and Turbo
