

Recently we lost our Family German Shepherd. Whiskey was a big, gorgeous WELL behaved German shepherd. We began training with Victor when Whiskey was 7 mos. old. Whiskey, though smart, was stubborn and a hand full until we met Victor. He gave my wife; she did a majority of the training, the confidence and skills to have complete control of our close to 100 lb. German shepherd. On or off leash whiskey went everywhere with my family and people always commented on how well behaved he was. Without Victor I'm not sure we could have ever achieved the same level of success.

Victor literally taught us the routine to keep our very energetic Shepherd challenged and happy. Once you understand that bad dog behavior is usually due to your own behaviors and not being consistent, it's easy to understand why other dogs you have owned didn't live up to your obedience expectations.

It is now time for a new dog and it's a no brainer Victor will be involved. Frankly, this time we have contacted Victor before we bring our new puppy and he has already made suggestions that never crossed our minds!

Any family thinking about bringing a dog into their home should consider Victor as a positive influence you will not regret.

Thank you.
